TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN

Dear Sir/Madam,

Accenture has been focusing on building a new pool of talent in Mauritius. The National Skill Development Program, which is an initiative under the Human Resources Development Council, has been used to sponsor both training and placement for this initiative.

The Accenture Language School has been deployed under this scheme. Our program has been conceptualized to provide a comprehensive training and placement program to school leavers who are unable to find appropriate employment opportunities due to lack of employable skills. Now, we are enabling young unemployed school leavers to acquire job-ready skills for the labour market. This includes both technical and languages skills such as Italian, Spanish and German. The scheme is supporting Accenture to play an active role in training youth who lack skills to become employable and to improve our ability to expand supply of relevant skills to the industry.

The stipend of Rs6000 per month (as travelling expenses) provided by the HRDC is an important support to encourage the participation of trainees from all over Mauritius. All registrants obtain an equal chance to go through the recruitment process and get selected. We hold information sessions to provide maximum information to them and ask questions prior to them embarking on this journey.

Based on the abovementioned contribution, we recommend HRDC for the 2019 United Nations Public Service Awards [UNPSA], under the category – “Delivering inclusive and equitable service to leave no one behind”.

Yours faithfully,
